PREFARING TO TRAVEL

Being well prepared for your journey makes life a whole lot easier. So before you leave home, make sure you have got everything organised:

- Do you have permission to enter and remain in the UK and the required documentation to prove it?
- Have you bought travel tickets and travel insurance?
- Have you obtained a letter from your doctor for any prescribed drugs you may need to bring with you?
- Have you ordered British currency and travellers' cheques for your immediate arrival expenses?
- Have you checked with your bank how to access your money from the UK?
- Have you checked whether your own government has restrictions on the amount of money you can take out of your country?

- Is your accommodation arranged?
- Do you have a plan of how to get to High Wycombe from your arrival airport?
- Have you taken out personal possessions' insurance?
- Have you checked if you need medical insurance?
- Have you checked what you must declare at customs?
- Have you weighed your baggage to ensure that it is within your baggage allowance and is easily transportable for your onward journey?
- It is important to remember that living in the UK could be quite different to life in your home country. It is a good idea to read a little bit about the culture of the UK so you have a better understanding. But don't worry, we will help you when you arrive.

Payment, proof of scholarship or sponsor's letter

- A copy of your VISA LETTER
- Original copies of any qualifications used to gain entry to the course

Certain countries also require you to have:

- Vaccination certificates
- A Tuberculosis Test Certificate

Letting us know

Once you have received your visa you will need to let us know and send us a scanned copy.

Please also let us know:

- Date of travel
- Date of arrival
- Airline
- Flight number
- Arrival airport
- Whether you need onward travel support
- Where you will be staying on arrival

What to bring

Everyone arriving in the UK must pass through Immigration Control.

Please make sure before you depart from your home country that you have the following documents and keep them on your person (not in your suitcase):

- A valid passport, with a valid visa
- An air ticket
- Your letter of acceptance from the college, with a start date in the future

- Evidence that you have enough money to pay your fees and accommodate yourself while studying (recent bank statements, proof of fees)

Insurance

When travelling to a new country it is wise to have some back-up security in case something should go wrong.

Travel Insurance - Travel insurance is a comprehensive package that, depending on the specific policy covers most situations.

It can be as simple as covering lost items to comprehensive medical cover. Consider the length of your course as well. Most travel insurances are only for a few weeks, although there are some that cover you for up to a year.

Personal Possessions Insurance - Whatever you decide to bring with you to the UK, it is worth insuring it, especially such items as computers, MP3 players, etc. Lost luggage doesn't happen very often, but it can occur from time to time. If these belongings are already insured in your own country, check to see if the policy covers them abroad. If it doesn't, cover will have to be arranged for the UK.

Medical Insurance - It is very important that you take out medical insurance for the duration of your visit to the UK if you are not eligible for free or subsidised treatment on the NHS. If you do not have insurance, private treatment could prove very expensive. Find out more in 'Accessing Health Services'

Some Basic UK Law for International Students

- The laws in the UK may be different from those in your home country. This especially applies to the use of tobacco, alcohol and self-defence sprays:
- You must not carry drugs with you of any kind (unless prescribed by a doctor), or use any illegal drugs including cannabis, ecstasy, LSD or amphetamines.
- It is illegal to carry any sort of weapon including knives, self-defence CS gas sprays, guns or stun guns.
- You must be 18 and over to buy tobacco and alcohol.
- It is an illegal offence for anyone under the age of 18 to purchase alcohol or to have alcohol purchased for them.
- As a general rule, the minimum legal age for gambling in the UK is 18 years old. This applies to adult gaming centres, betting shops, bingo halls, casinos, racetracks and online gambling. The exceptions to this are the National Lottery and scratchcards – you're allowed to take part in these from the age of 16.

- Never buy property that you think may be stolen, no matter how tempting a bargain it might seem.
- It is against the law to smoke inside buildings

Police arrest procedure

If you do find yourself in trouble with the Police and are arrested, then it is because the police have reasonable grounds to suspect you are involved in a crime for which your arrest is necessary. The police have powers to arrest you anywhere and at any time, including on the street, at home or at work.

It is important that you know the police arrest procedure that they should follow. If you're arrested the police must:

- Identify themselves as the police
- Tell you that you're being arrested
- Tell you what crime they think you've committed
- Explain why it's necessary to arrest you
- Explain to you that you're not free to leave

If you try to escape or become violent, the police can use 'reasonable force', e.g. holding you down so you can't run off. You can also be handcuffed. The police have powers to search you when you're arrested.

If you do find yourself in trouble with the police then you should inform the college by using the emergency contact number. This link will give you more details:

<https://www.gov.uk/police-powers-of-arrest-your-rights>

Driving in the UK

As an international student, you must make sure you fulfil the legal requirements and be aware of the correct procedures before you drive in England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland.

You must have a valid licence that allows you to drive in England, Scotland and Wales. There are different arrangements in Northern Ireland.

If you wish to drive you must find out if you can use your existing licence, which will depend on where it was issued. It is an offence to drive without a valid licence and insurance. You can also be convicted of motoring offences whilst in charge of a vehicle, e.g. speeding, driving under the influence of alcohol, dangerous driving.

For information about driving in the UK please

British Customs and Culture

When meeting someone for the first time, it is polite to shake hands with the right hand, say hello and ask the person how they are. You may find people use expressions such as ‘how are you?’ or ‘how’s it going?’ Kissing and hugging is usually reserved for greeting family and close friends.

Queuing

In England we like to form orderly queues (standing in line) and wait patiently for our turn e.g. boarding a bus. It is usual to queue when required, and expected that you will take your correct turn and not push in front.

General Politeness

We use ‘please’ and ‘thank you’ a lot and it is important you do too! British people are quite relaxed but like good manners. It is polite to say ‘excuse me’ when wanting someone to move out of your way and ‘sorry’ if you accidentally bump into somebody. People in the UK are quite open and friendly, but are still quite private and reserved.

It is impolite to ask personal questions such as ‘how much do you earn?’, ‘how much do you weigh?’, ‘how old are you?’ and people are unlikely to start conversations with strangers. Speak slowly and gently. Do not disturb others in road, bus, train, park etc.

Punctuality

British people are very punctual and always arrive on time for appointments. It is considered rude to arrive late. If you are going to arrive late, you should contact the person you are meeting beforehand to let them know. You should never arrive late for lectures, seminars, tutorials etc.

Eating

If you are invited to somebody’s house for a meal, it is considered good manners to take a gift. A bottle of wine, flowers, or chocolate are popular gifts. People in the UK generally eat with a knife and fork and put them together on the plate at the end of the meal to signal that they have had enough to eat. If you eat at a restaurant, you may wish to tip the waiter if you have received good service but it is not compulsory.

Alcohol

Many British people drink alcohol. You must be over the age of 18 to drink. If you do not drink alcohol, then you may be worried if you are invited to a pub or a bar. Don't worry – pubs are popular meeting places and sell non alcoholic drinks as well as alcohol. Both men and women may visit pubs and bars in the UK.

Equality

Both men and women have equal rights in the UK. It is illegal to discriminate against anyone according to race, gender, age, class, religion, sexual orientation or disability. British attitudes to sex and sexuality may be different from those in your own country. You are free to live according to your own personal standards, ethics and beliefs and not feel pressured to adopt those of any of your fellow students.

Smoking

It is illegal to smoke in public places in England. This means you cannot smoke in lecture theatres, tutorial rooms, cinemas, theatres, trains, pubs, bars and restaurants. There are designated smoking areas outside College.

Shopping

High Wycombe

Eden, known more popularly as the Eden Centre, is a shopping and entertainment complex in High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire in the south east of England. With a floor area of 850,000 square feet (79,000 m²), it is the 32nd largest shopping centre in the United Kingdom and the largest in the surrounding area.

The centre has 107 shops, a bowling alley, a cinema, a library (which opened on 3 June 2008), parking for 1,600 cars on site and other car parks available nearby.

The complex is part of a major regeneration of High Wycombe in a bid to transform the town into a regional shopping destination. The complex includes a new bus station and 48 residential flats. The shopping centre opened on 13 March 2008, the bus station opened earlier in July 2006.

Eden attracted one million visitors within two weeks of opening and regularly attracts over 350,000 visitors per week.

If you are living in self-catering accommodation, shopping for food is likely to be your main priority. Eating the right food, and enough of it, is vital for keeping yourself healthy. You may find it easier to shop in self-service shops or supermarkets, where you can use a basket or trolley provided for you to carry the goods you intend to buy. There are smaller shops, where you can buy specialised foods from overseas and street markets, which are particularly good for fresh fruit and vegetables, often sold at low prices.
